Murphy, mighty the swing of his bat. With his trusty war bludgeon, this knight of the diamond, single-handed, when all his comrades had failed ignobly, to-day vanquished Washington by a terrific drive to left center, the longest smash by far that has been made at Shibe Park. With the crack of his club there was scurrying of spikes, a flying of feet, but the stern chase of Ganley and Freeman was futile. ACTING PRESIDENT HEYDLER TURNS DOWN CINCINNATI REDS' PROTEST

Acting President Heydler, of the National League, gave his ruling yesterday on the recent Cincinnati-Pittsburg game, which was won by Pittsburg, and which Manager Griffith protested.

Griffith's protest was made on the grounds that Hans Wagner jumped from one side of the plate to the other while the Reds' pitcher was in the act of delivering the ball. His contention was that, according to the rules, Wagner should have been declared out.

Mr. Heydler disaflows the protest, and gives his reasons as follows:

The Cincinnati club bases its protest in the claim that Wagner violated Section 10 of Rule 51 in stepping from one batsman's box to the other after the pitcher had taken his position, and that he, instead of being called out, reached first base and scored the winning run. "This being a contention as to facts only, the interest of the rule

(which is mainly to prevent injury to or interference with the catcher) is not revelant; nor is the evidence submitted, which is to the effect that. with a runner on third, Wagner apparently did cross the plate to defeat the pitcher's object of preventing his hitting the ball.

The question as to the pitcher being in position, or in the act of delivering at that time was solely one of judgment, and not to be determined by evidence of players or spectators, any more than are decisions as to whether a pitcher makes a balk or not, whether a batsman is out for making a four-strike or not, or a runner out for interference or running out of line-all of which are matters solely for the exercise of the umpire's judgment and decision, and subject neither to protest on the field nor review by higher authority. The protest of the Cincinnati club is, therefore, not allowed."
